FINANCES

Fees for participation in CCL vary depending on the size of your organisation or whether you are a freelancer. They cover the costs of the programme, accommodation and food for the duration of your stay at Sigtuna Foundation; and inclusion in an on-going network of CCL alumni including three post-course webinars and attendance at a CCL Summit in September 2022.

A limited number of grants are available to cover participation for those who can demonstrate they could not otherwise attend. They are only available to those who are self-employed or work for a non-profit grassroots or charity organization with an annual turnover of less than 399,000 SEK. Note these grants do not cover travel expenses, and we are unable to offer stipends to cover participants' time. Grants will not be paid out to participants and cannot be exchanged for financial value – if you are successful, you will simply receive a free place.

We are aware that the COVID-19 pandemic has created significant financial pressures for many in the creative community. If you are not eligible for a grant place, but will struggle to meet the fee levels outlined below, please provide some additional information in the comment box provided.
